GERMAN FREMONT MEETING AT Market Hall to-night!

Mr S. Ludwig, an able editor of a German paper in Baltimore, will address his countrymen to night at Market Hall, on the great issue of the day.

VICTORY IN MAINE.

PRO-SLAVERY DEMOCRACY STRUCK DUMB!

We received last night a despatch from our associate announcing the glorious result in Maine. The eyes of the whole nation have been turned to the East, and the importance of the election in Maine was fully appreciated. We did not expect, and barely hoped, to carry Maine on the State election, and if the report of the result shall be confirmed, we shall look upon victory in November as certain, and FREMONT may as well look out his Cabinet.

Letter of Judge Doolittle.

We ask no apology for devoting considerable space this morning to the able letter of Judge DOOLITTLE, declaring the course which he intends to pursue in the pending contest, and his reasons for that course. As a gentleman of ability and high standing in every respect, a Democrat of high reputation with his party, and a man whose friends, partizan and politically opposed, were proud to place him on the bench in the 2d Circuit, his letter deserves, as it will receive, a careful perusal. The condition of things which drives such men as Judge DOOLITTLE from the democratic party, is such as to demand the thoughtful consideration of all candid men.

Republican Convention at Racine.

Besides the Congregational Convention, to be held at Racine on Thursday, the Committee, at the suggestion of many of our Republican friends have called a Mass Meeting of the people for the same day, to listen to addresses from able speakers. Judge HOWE, MARSHALL M. STRONG, DAVID NOGGLE, Mr. PETTIBONE of New York, J. C. VAUGHN of Chicago, have promised to be present and to speak to the voters. We should be glad to see a good representation from the city.

Mr. SAMUEL LUDWIG, an able German editor from Baltimore, will also be present and address his fellow citizens in their own language.

Iowa Election—Official.

We have the official figures of the late Iowa election. The total vote for Congressmen was 77,363—a very heavy vote.

In the 2d District, Davis, Republican, beats Leffler 6,017 votes, and in the 1st, Curtis, (Rep.) beats Hall 955 votes.

The average Republican majority on the State ticket is 7,500.

The Republicans have nearly two-thirds of each house of the Legislature, which secures a successor to George W. Jones, the present "democratic" U. S. Senator.

PER CONTRA.—On the authority of a Loco Foco paper in Cincinnati, the telegraph reported 40,000 persons at the Democratic meeting at Lafayette. The Chicago Democrat says:

The Tippecanoe Meeting.—We learn from a letter from Indiana, that the great pro-slavery meeting that was to be held at the Old Tippecanoe Battle Ground was a complete failure. The highest estimate of unprejudiced persons puts the number at 8,000, and 2,300 of these were from Kentucky. The Buchaneers calculated upon 100,000.

HANDSOMELY DONE.—The ladies of Fox Lake, Dodge County, got up a pic-nic party last week, at which there was a large attendance, the proceeds being devoted to the aid of the Freemen in Kansas. Gen. BLAKE yesterday handed over to the Treasurer here $230 50, as the proceeds of this party, with $41 contributed by the Thayer Family, being half the receipts of a concert given by them at Fox Lake.

☞ The News would fain have its readers believe that the Germans don't know its candidate's name, as it represents one as shouting "Hurrah for Boochan."

They find no difficulty in shouting the name of FREMONT.

☞ Our correspondents must be patient. We will give as many of them a hearing as we can and as soon as we can. Our table is loaded with letters now, and they come thicker and faster.

Judge Doolittle for Fremont—The Reasons Why.

We invite attention to the following letter. It tells its own story:

RACINE, Sept. 5, 1856.

HON. F. S. LOVELL:

DEAR SIR:—In retiring from the bench, in March last, it was no part of my intention, as you are well aware, to take any active part in political affairs, but to devote myself to the duties of my profession, and to enjoy the tranquility of private life. But "we are in the midst of a revolution," not altogether "bloodless," which, if carried out, will change the whole policy of our government in relation to the extension of negro slavery. That policy was inaugurated in 1848, couched in language somewhat ambiguous in the famous Nicholson letter; received, however, a severe check in the election of Gen. Taylor, and was supposed to be finally put at rest by the Compromise of 1850. To those Compromises the leaders of both parties swore their eternal allegiance, and, as part of their platforms, pledged themselves to each other and to the country against all further agitation of the slavery question either in or out of Congress. Mr. Pierce, as he took his oath of office, solemnly repeated that pledge. Within two years, however, Senator Douglas, of Illinois, then standing high in the confidence of the Democratic party and of the President, under the dictation of Atchison, if we are to believe his words, reopened the ball of revolution by adopting as an amendment to the Kansas-Nebraska Bill a provision repealing the Missouri Compromise, by which slavery was prohibited in all the territory now comprising Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska and Kansas, and the whole power of the Administration was brought to bear to carry that measure through Congress. The deed was done. The gates were thrown wide open for the admission of negro slavery into all those vast territories heretofore consecrated to become the homes of free white men.

I have felt at liberty, at all times, even while holding a judicial office, freely to express my opinions of that measure, and its disastrous consequences; but I have purposely refrained from giving utterance to any determination as to the candidate of my choice for the Presidency until after the final adjournment of the present Congress, for that determination was not fully formed. I did not believe it were possible, in view of all that has already followed the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, of all that has transpired and is now transpiring in Kansas and throughout the country, that any Congress could adjourn without taking some adequate measures to put an end to the civil war already begun in that Territory, to blot out of existence these infamous enactments of its invaders, and with them, the parent of them all, the act of Congress repealing the Missouri Compromise.

I felt somewhat assured, at least I strongly hoped, that Mr. Buchanan, who was believed to have been opposed to that act when it passed, would, through his friends in Congress, have done something to assure the country that slavery should be excluded from Kansas, or at least that the friends of freedom should have fair play, and that I should be able conscientiously to give my vote and my influence for his election.

But sir, the telegraphic despatch which announced that Congress had adjourned without passing any law for the pacification of Kansas, has realized my worst fears and extinguished in my bosom the last hope for freedom in that territory except in the election of John C. Fremont. I can no longer doubt for a moment what position to take, and shall no longer remain silent.—I have received several letters of inquiry, and this will be taken as an answer to them all. The Cincinnati platform into which Mr. Buchanan is merged, the administration whose candidate he is, as well as all his supporters in Congress, North and South, have determined to acquiesce in the laws of Kansas, forced upon that territory by its invaders, and to enforce them at the point of the bayonet, though acknowledged by all to be in favor of Slavery—bloody and infamous to the last degree, and a disgrace to any civilized age. I could not refrain from denouncing them if I would, and I would not if I could.

The laws of Kansas are the laws of the United States for that territory. The ultimate responsibility of making and enforcing them, whether for good or evil, rests upon the government of the United States. All attempts to throw off that responsibility from Congress, where it belongs, upon the first few settlers who may chance to enter the territory, are unwarranted by the constitution, unstatesmanlike, and, as has proved, in this case, utterly futile.

In the Territories the government of the United States, representing the States and the people, holds the Sovereign power. Whether under the express provision of the constitution conferring upon Congress the "power to make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory of the United States," or as an incident to the treaty making power by which territory may be acquired, Congress has from time to time from the foundation of our government, exercised the unquestioned power to establish territorial governments by an act of Congress. It is commonly called the organic act. It is in the nature of a constitution or fundamental law, limiting and defining, the rights of the people who may inhabit it and sometimes conferring the power of local legislative, upon the Judges and Governor as in Michigan, and sometimes upon a Legislative Assembly as in Wisconsin.

But no power of Congress, at any and all times, to disapprove of any law passed by the Territorial Government, has always been exercised, has been expressly retained in some of the organic acts, and until within the last few years has not been doubted.

To admit, as all must, that Congress can prescribe the boundaries, frame the organic law, form the very constitution of a Territory, prescribe what subjects shall be legislated upon, and what shall not, and who shall legislate for a Territory and who shall not, and at the same time to deny the power of Congress to legislate for the Territories, or to control the legislation of the Territories, is just as absurd and preposterous as to place the creature above the Creator.

The laws enacted for their government are the laws of Congress, passed either directly by Congress itself, or by some other officers or bodies clothed with that power by Congress.

The Judges who administer them are appointed and removed at the pleasure of the President, and are paid from the Treasury of the United States. The Executive power to enforce them is also an appointee of the President, and supported by him as Commander-in-Chief of the Army of the United States.

The whole governmental power in a Territory, legislative, judicial and executive, is created by, based upon, controlled, modified, supported and sustained by the government of the United States. The first settlers of a Territory have no voice in the formation of their organic law, and no more power in the formation of their local laws under the organic act than Congress is pleased to grant; they have no voice in choosing their judges to administer them, and no voice in choosing their Executive to enforce them, and are neither able to maintain, nor are they called upon to pay taxes for the support of an independent government.

The last few months in Kansas shows how entirely inadequate are a few thousand sparsely settled emigrants into a territory to maintain an independent sovereignty. Have we not seen a few hundreds, or thousands, perhaps, from the border counties in Missouri, invade this sovereign Territory, as some would call it, again and again, and by force of arms take possession and control of its elections, and force upon them, as a subjugated people, the code of Missouri, adding to it some provisions of their own enactment, so infamous that neither Brooks nor Butler, of South Carolina, dare stand up in Congress to defend them?

It is true that in a territory there may be the elements of a future state. So in the child there are all the elements of a man. You might as well speak of the manhood of a nursling babe, as of the sovereignty of a few thousand squatters sparsely settled over a territory nine hundred miles in length and two hundred miles in width. There is no sovereignty in fact, and none in law in the Territorial government of Kansas; it is the United States. The free state men invited there, are indicted for treason not against Kansas, but treason against the United States. Such has been the established doctrine and practice of this government from its foundation, and until within the last few years has never been questioned. In the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska Act and the Repeal of the Missouri Compromise there was an attempt to take away from Congress the power to legislate for those territories and to throw off the responsibility of legislation and government in them, for the avowed purpose of avoiding the agitation of the slavery question, in Congress. Whether adopted from ambition, weakness, cowardice or a deliberate purpose to introduce slavery into Kansas, time will determine.

So far, however, from saving Congress the trouble of agitating that question, the history of this Republic has never witnessed such scenes of violence and agitation as were presented during its last session. And so far from relieving the government of the United States from the responsibility of exercising its sovereignty in the territory, the truth is that the sovereignty there has passed in effect from the Civil to the Military power of the United States; from Congress where it rightfully belongs, to the army and the President, to put down insurrection and civil war.

There is but one conclusion to which my mind is forced to come; the laws in Kansas are the laws of the United States in that territory, either by the direct enactment or by the sufferance of Congress, and are administered by the government at Washington or officers under their direct control.

I hold therefore the government at Washington responsible for making and administering the laws in Kansas.

It is at Washington that the laws of Kansas as a territory are to be changed, and it is by a change of administration at Washington, that a change of judges and officers in that territory is to be made. If the present code of Kansas is suffered to remain in force and the present judges are to remain to administer it, slavery, which is already introduced there, cannot be eradicated.

Every enactment of that code which can possibly bear upon that subject is in favor of Slavery, and the majority, it not all the judicial officers in that Territory, are pro-Slavery men, in favor of its introduction. All the rivers and highways through Missouri leading to it, are in the hands of armed bands, organized for that very purpose. In this respect "They hold the mouth of the Danube." Without a change in the laws of Kansas and the officers who administer them, there is no hope for ever ending Slavery from that Territory.

So long as Mr. Pierce remains in the Executive chair, there is, of course, no hope of a change.

If Mr. Buchanan is elected, I can now see no more hope than if Mr. Pierce were to continue.

Mr. Buchanan has surrendered his own convictions as to the impropriety of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and has embraced the doctrine of the Kansas Nebraska act as practically applied; and the action of his friends, Senator Bigler among the rest, in Congress, up to the very hour of adjournment, has forced upon me the conviction (though I had hoped otherwise to the very last) that his administration, if elected, is to be but the prolongation and continuation of the present policy in relation to Kansas. That every State where the slaveholding interest prevails, will cast its electoral vote, aye, that every border ruffian, with his hands, it may be, yet reeking with the blood of murdered men and women on some new invasion into Kansas, will cast his vote for Mr. Buchanan for the openly avowed purpose of extending Slavery into Kansas, is as certain as the revolutions of the earth: and, if elected, that Slavery will go there, and remain there, and go into the territories west and south of Kansas is equally certain.

Upon the other hand Col. Fremont, though less distinguished as a politician and statesman than Mr. Buchanan, is also a democrat of unquestioned integrity, of the highest order of ability and executive talent. He is fully committed against the extension of Slavery into Kansas, and, if elected, will bring the whole power and influence of the Executive Department of the government to bear against it.

The people of the non-slaveholding States will see to it that no new representative in either House of Congress shall be chosen who is not only fully and openly committed against it, but who is a man of sufficient integrity and moral courage, to "go through the furnace heated seven times hotter than it is wont to be heated, without the smell of fire upon his garments."

The majority in the house will never be as small as it now is. And before the expiration of his Presidential term, the very reaction growing out of the infamous proceedings of the border ruffians, done in the name of the people of the South, will produce such a revolution of public sentiment among them as to compel their Senators in Congress to declare again what our forefathers as well as their forefathers maintained, that Slavery is the creature of the local law, a sectional not national, and that all those territories where white men can live and labor shall never be devoted to cultivation by the hands of negro slaves. The election of Mr. Blair from Missouri speaks volumes upon this subject. It is, I confess, with some degree of reluctance that I am compelled to leave so many political associates and warm personal friends. But if I am not altogether mistaken the separation will be a very brief one. The masses of my democratic friends will find that the reorganization of the democratic republican party is now going on, and will also find in John C. Fremont a democratic republican president of the Jefferson and Jackson school, who will neither be driven by men of extreme impracticable views at the North, nor intimidated by the enabling slavery propagandists at the South, but a firm, conscientious, Union-loving representative of young democratic republican America, who will take high rank among the Presidents, and of whom our country and our whole country, every State and every territory, East and West, North and South, and not the least among them all, Georgia and South Carolina, will have occasion to be proud.

Truly yours,
J. R. DOOLITTLE.

Memorial of the Milwaukee and Watertown Railroad Co.

We publish to-day the memorial of the Mil. & Wat. R. R. Co. to-day to the Legislature asking that a portion of the grant of lands made by Congress be placed under their control for the purpose of carrying out the intentions of the Grant. As a straight-forward, manly proposition, made by a responsible company, it merits more than the mere space occupied by it in our columns.

It will be seen that the Company propose to build the road north-westward to Lake St. Croix, starting from both Columbus and Madison, and connecting at Portage City. They propose that provisions shall be made compelling them to make running connections with other roads—that they shall deposit $200,000 as security for their fulfillment of their promises—that their capital stock be increased to $10,000,000, that commissioners shall be appointed to attend to the distribution of the additional stock,—and they engage to pay the state 7 per cent. of the gross receipts of the road.

As reasons for granting the petition, they represent that their line will be in operation from Milwaukee to Columbus by the 15th of October next, only 28½ miles from Portage City—that their Company is the first one authorized to build from this city to Portage, and from Portage to La Crosse, on the Mississippi—that they have expended $1,500,000 on the work—and that theirs is the most direct route.

The Committee having the subject in charge will doubtless give this important Memorial the attention which it deserves, although we confess that the complexion of the Committee is not, at first sight favorable, neither Jefferson or Columbia county having a member of that committee.

Whether or not the prayer of the Memorial shall be granted, we trust that the members of the Legislature from this city will spare no effort for the protection of its interests in any application of the Grant. Our citizens, who with small means have made exertions and sacrifices for the building of railroads for which there is no parallel in the United States or elsewhere, and whose labors and capital and credit have by the building of the road done so much to build up the country deserve some degree of consideration, certainly, at the hands of the Representatives of the people.

It is certainly due to the city of Milwaukee, and to the very large number of people in the State who are interested in railroads leading hither, that, at the very least, the grant by Congress should not be used to their injury, and as the terms of the grant indicate a difference of opinion between Madison and Columbus as points from which one of the roads should start, the Legislature ought perhaps, to provide for building from both. If not, and but one point is selected, there is nothing in the past history of Madison in regard to railroads which should give it any preference over Columbus; and indeed the latter, as on a direct line to Milwaukee, which has some claims to consideration, is the preferable point.

We understand very well the projects of our enterprising neighbors at Chicago, to obtain control of both of these roads to be built from the grant, but have not yet seen any valid argument presented for giving it to them.

THE TURF—UNPRECEDENTED TIME.—A trotting match took place over the Union Course, L. I., on Tuesday, between Flora Temple and Tacony—mile heats. Flora to harness. Tacony under the saddle. Flora won, distancing Tacony the first heat. Time, 2:24½! the fastest heat ever trotted.

Later from Kansas—Letter from Mr. E. G. Ross.

LAWRENCE, Aug. 27, 1856.

DEAR SENTINEL:—I have at last time and opportunity of addressing you a few lines. We are in the midst of another campaign, which is becoming very exciting, and promises to result in something decisive, one way or the other, very soon. We were called from Topeka last Sunday night, and marched with 130 men from there to this place, 25 miles, between 9 P. M. and 6 A. M., on foot, expecting to meet an armed force of Missourians, some hundreds strong, about daylight, investing Lawrence. That rumor was exploded, however, and another is now on foot, that from 1 to 1200 Missourians are near the Wakarusa, on the march. This report comes in a very definite shape, and I think can be relied upon.—Three of their spies have been detected and arrested this afternoon, and are now under guard. There is also supposed to be a force of several hundred men on the north side of the river, intending to attack us in conjunction with the division on the south side. This is undoubtedly the result of the gathering at Lexington on the 20th, and shows plainly that they intend, as far as possible, to fulfil their threat of extermination, and that speedily. We have about 700 men under arms here, and more are coming in every day, all in good spirits and eager for a fight. In fact, if we don't have a fight soon, some of the boys will certainly spoil. There will be bloody work if an affray is once commenced. Of one thing you can be assured, we shall not be "gammoned" out of a fight and out of our rights a second time by bogus writs, even with the U. S. troops to back them. If we cannot withstand the troops and the Ruffians combined—if it comes to that—we will perish—but we will not be humbugged. There have been many acts of barbarity and disgraceful cruelty committed by our enemies lately.

At Leavenworth, a few days ago, at a gathering of pro-slavery forces, the question was taken on the policy to be pursued in the present campaign, when it was decided, with but one dissenting voice, to utterly EXTERMINATE the Free State party of Kansas; to murder and drive out, at one blow, every man in the Territory who would not fall down and worship the image of Slavery. We of Kansas are glad that the issue is finally made up, and that the real intentions of our enemies have been so frankly avowed. We are ready to meet them, four to one, on that ground. Soon after this decision at Leavenworth, a Free State man was found murdered and thrown into a ravine near the roadside. The same day another Free State man, while passing into Leavenworth in a buggy, was deliberately shot dead and scalped, and left in the road, and that, too, without a single word to warn the victim of his danger.

On Sunday last, a few miles north of this place, a small party of ruffians entered a farm house, and after stealing and destroying what they conveniently could, seized the woman of the house and violated her person, and afterwards beat and kicked her so that her life is despaired of. These reports you can rely upon, as I have them from sources which are perfectly reliable. As soon as the division on the south of us are dispersed, we propose to cross the river and "clean out" Leavenworth county. There are a number of residents of that town now here, who have been driven from their homes with threats and actual attempts at assassination, by the hands of wretches who infest that vicinity. No man can realize without experiencing, or seeing for himself, the sufferings of the old residents of this Territory. The people of the North have been in the habit of regarding the stories proceeding from here as greatly exaggerated, but let me assure you that the half of the wrongs and privations endured by this people has not been told. They are without money, and by reason of the impossibility, in the disturbed state of the country, of paying the requisite attention to their various vocations, are, in many instances, short of the actual necessaries of life.

Men are constantly arriving, and we will very shortly have enough to defend the Territory against any force which the South will be likely to send. Our great need now is something to support them while they are battling against the common enemy.

This is a beautiful country—one worth fighting for, and the institutions, which we propose to plant here, are such as will make this, in time, the greatest State in the Union in point of intelligence, enterprise and commercial prosperity.—The climate is truly delightful, the atmosphere always clear and bracing, and a soil which is incomparable for agricultural or grazing purposes.

Say to my old comrades in the office, that my thoughts often play truant, and recur to the many pleasant days and weeks we have spent together, which nothing but Kansas in her hour of need, could ever have disturbed. Say also that that rifle, which they have honored me by confiding to my hands, is now in service—that it has excited a good deal of interest on the journey into the country, and also in the battalion in which I am enlisted, and that when the struggle comes, as it must in a day or two, it shall speak promptly and truly for "Freedom in Kansas." Nothing but death shall ever take it from me.

Yours truly,
E. G. ROSS.

The State Fair.

The Annual Fair of the State Agricultural Society takes place in this city on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, the 8th, 9th and 10th of October. The grounds selected are known as the Cold Spring Race Course. The distance from the centre of the city is greater than the grounds last occupied, but in every other respect the selection is very favorable. The ground is level, affording "eligible locations" for the tents and buildings; and the fine race course affords not only a drive for vehicles, around which visitors may be taken to view the animals, implements, &c., on exhibition, but gives a place where the trial of horses may be made, in full view of the whole mass of spectators. Particulars of the doings of each day will be hereafter announced; but we allude to the subject now in order to urge our citizens to a thorough and liberal effort to make the occasion one which shall represent Milwaukee fairly in her various interests. We learn from Mr. TIFFANY, the Secretary of the Society, that great interest is manifested in the Exhibition in all parts of the State. The contracts for the various buildings, &c., are made, and the preparations are being pushed forward rapidly. The Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad, and one or two other companies, have agreed to convey stock free as usual, and we presume that all will do so.

"DON'T WANT THEM."—The News says that it don't want Washington and Ozaukee Counties added to this district, so long as it "knows there is no doubt of Mr. HADLEY'S receiving the warm support of all who voted for Gov. "Barstow" last fall."

We knew very well that Mr. Hadley was a staunch supporter of Ex-Governor Barstow, but scarcely think that that fact will add materially to his strength among the people. Barstowism is not as popular as it once was, owing to sundry unfortunate exposures, which Mr. Hadley did his best to thwart.

DELEGATES TO RACINE.—The delegates from WAUWATOSA are L. W. MOWER, REUBEN CHASE, and EPHRAIM SERGOOD.

From the North-east district of Waukesha Co; C. H. PURPLE, E. ENOS, and C. PEARL.

DANIEL SCHULTZ is the delegate in the 4th ward, and not Shewit, as we gave it yesterday.

DELEGATES TO RACINE.—The Southwest Assembly District of Waukesha County sends the following good men as delegates to the Republican Congressional Convention at Racine on Wednesday of this week, viz.; MARTIN FIELD, of Mukwonago, THOMAS SUGDEN, of Genesee, JONATHAN PARSONS, of Eagle.

Requisition for Troops for Kansas upon the Governors of Illinois and Kentucky.

New York, Sept. 6.

A lengthy correspondence between the War Department at Washington and the authorities in Kansas is published, together with the instructions to Gov. Geary, the newly appointed Governor, who was at St. Louis on the 4th inst., en route for the scene of disturbance. The force of troops being inadequate to the exigency of the case, the Governor is ordered to enroll and organize the militia of the Territory. One Division, under Gen. Richardson (Border Ruffian) is already in the field.

Requisitions have also been made upon the Governors of Kentucky and Illinois for two regiments of infantry to be placed under the enrollment of Gen. Smith to aid in suppressing combinations against the constitutional government of Kansas.

Secretary Marcy writes as follows to Governor Geary:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.

SIR:—The present condition of the Territory of Kansas renders your duties as Governor as highly responsible and delicate.

In the instructions heretofore communicated to your predecessor, in February last, in the annual message to Congress, of the 24th of the previous December, an order issued from the War Department, printed copies of which you are hereby furnished, you will find the policy of the President fully presented. It has been, first to obtain order and quiet in the Territory of Kansas, and, secondly, if disturbances do occur therein, to bring to punishment the offenders. Should the force which has been provided to obtain these objects prove insufficient, you will promptly make known the same to the President, that he may take such measures in regard thereto as to him may seem to be demanded by the exigencies of the case. It is important that the President should be kept well informed as to the state of things in Kansas, and that the source of his information should be such as to ensure its accuracy.

You are therefore directed by him to communicate constantly with this department; such facts as are deemed important to be early known here, you will cause to be transmitted by telegraph as well as by mail.

The President indulges a hope that by your energy, impartiality and discretion, the tranquility of the Territory will be restored, and the persons and the property of our citizens protected.

I am yours, &c.,
W. L. MARCY.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON,
September 2.

SIR:—Reliable information reached the President that armed and organized bodies of men, avowedly in rebellion against the Territorial Government, have concentrated in such numbers as to require additional military forces for their dispersion, you will have the militia of the Territory enrolled and organized, to the end that they may, on short notice, be brought into the service of the United States, upon the requisition of the commander of the Military Department in which Kansas is embraced.

You will furnish by companies, or regiments, or brigades, or divisions, such numbers as you from time to time may find on his report to you to be necessary for the suppression of all combinations to resist the laws of the United States too powerful to be suppressed by the civil authorities, and for the maintenance of public order and civil government in the Territory.

To His Excellency,
S. W. GEARY, Gov'r.

KANSAS AFFAIRS.

Capture and Burning of Ossawattomie!

THE MURDER OF MR. PHILIPS AT LEAVENWORTH!

[From the St. Louis Democrat.]

The town of Ossawotamie was composed of from thirty to forty houses, and was a thriving place before the Kansas difficulties, and had a population of about two hundred. It is situated immediately between the forks of a branch of the Osage river and the Pottawatomie river. The distracted state of the country had occasioned an almost total desertion of the town by the families living in it, and at the time of the fight it was occupied by about fifty armed free State men and a few women and children.

At six o'clock on last Saturday morning, just after sunrise, a pro-slavery party of about 400 men, under General Reid, made their appearance before the town, having in their command a piece of artillery, and most of them mounted.—They had made a forced march of thirty or forty miles from their camp on Bull Creek. As soon as the free State men descried the pro-slavery forces, they put themselves under command of Captains Brown and Updegraff, formerly of Ohio, and sought shelter in a growth of underbrush about three hundred yards distant from the town. The pro-slavery force maintained their ground at about the same distance, commencing firing with their cannon, which was loaded with grape and canister shot and slugs. They had an advantageous position, and each discharge of the gun rend the ambush of the Free State forces with fearful effect. One of our informants states that he saw three of his comrades fall at once; still they returned as brisk a fire as they could, and succeeded in wounding several of their enemies. After some ten or a dozen discharges from the artillery, a company of about eighty of the pro-slavery force dismounted from their horses, and having surrounded the place of retreat, made a charge, and completed the entire rout of the Free State men, several of whom, in attempting to cross the stream along which the fight raged, were shot in the water and were either instantly killed or so badly wounded as not to be able to save themselves from death by drowning.

One of our informants states that he saw the body of Capt. Brown in the water. He knows it was him by his coat and hat. He thinks there is no doubt of his being killed. Seven of the Free State men were captured, after which the town was set on fire and entirely destroyed.

In marching back to the camp on Bull creek, the prisoners were subjected to very cruel treatment, and two of them, the one named Williams and the other "Dutch Charley," were taken out of the camp and shot by their infuriated enemies. The latter was a Hungarian, who had fought under Kossuth, and since his removal to this country, had lived in Kansas and taken a very active part with the free State party. He was present at the battle of Black Jack, and after the capture of the pro slavery party, was appointed to guard the prisoners, one of whom was a man named Jokerman. This Coleman was at the battle of Ossawatomie, and after the capture of the free State men recognized Dutch Charley.—He then ended that Dutch Charley he delivered up to him, and taking him out shot him dead.

Fredie lick Brown, son of Capt. Brown, was also killed. He was one of the picket guards of the free State camp at Ossawatomie, and being surprised, he was shot through the heart by a preacher named Marin White. After being killed, and while lying on the ground, with the mouth relaxed and opened in death, another shot was fired down his throat.

Last Tuesday was election day in Leavenworth for municipal officers. The Free State men anticipating a difficulty, had resolved not to vote at all. Phillips, himself, said that he was not going to the election, and would have nothing to do with it. One Free State man who did attempt to vote, our informant states, he understood was fired at four times by the crowd around the poll.

Towards noon, about fifty men under Emery, but very few of whom were Missourians—the company being made up of a mixed crowd of desperadoes, who had mostly come from South Carolina and Georgia—marched up to the house of a brother of Mr. Phillips, on Shawnee street, where he was residing, and demanded his arms and himself as prisoner. The doors of the house were bolted, and he replied to them out of a window, that he wouldn't give up his arms, and that if they attempted to force their way in, it would be at the peril of their lives. They then rushed up, and two of them were immediately shot dead by pistols in his hands. The house was soon broken open, and in a moment Phillips fell a corpse, pierced by half a dozen bullets. His brother, who was also defending the house, was wounded in the arm. The mob then removed the body and all the things out of the house, and were soon setting fire to the premises, when they were stayed by a leader of the pro-slavery party, named W. H. Russell.

That night came on, the mob set fire to three offices owned by Phillips, which were all consumed, together with a grocery store occupied by a man named George Wetherill, who, although a very peaceful and quiet man, had incurred the hatred of the pro-slavery party by acting as one of the judges at the Free State election.

What Brooks Means to Have Done.

The silly coward Brooks has been received with a public dinner by the chivalry of his district in South Carolina. He made a speech on the occasion, at which he said:

On the second Monday in November next the great question would be decided. For his part, if Fremont, the traitor to his section, should be successful, it was his deliberate opinion that on the fourth of March next the people of the South should rise in their might, march to Washington, seize the archives and the Treasury of the Government. We should anticipate them, and force them to attack us.

Shade of Gen. Quattlebum! Is that what you are about to do? An interesting project, truly!

Memorial to the Legislature.

To the Honorable the Senate and Assembly of the State of Wisconsin:

Your Memorialists, the Milwaukee and Watertown Railroad Company, respectfully represent, that by an act, approved March 11th, 1851, they were incorporated with a capital stock of five hundred thousand dollars, for the purpose of building a railroad from the city of Milwaukee to the city of Watertown. That by a subsequent act, approved February 13th, 1852, they were authorized to extend their said line of railroad from the city of Watertown by the way of Columbus, to Portage City, and then to Prairie La Crosse, and for that purpose, to increase their capital stock to $1,500,000.

That, under the said acts, they have constructed and completed their line of road, from its junction with the Milwaukee and Mississippi Railroad, fourteen miles west of Milwaukee, to the city of Watertown; and the same is now in complete and successful operation, for thirty-one miles, between those points. They have now in process of construction nineteen miles of track, extending from Watertown to Columbus, which will be finished for the running trains by the 1st to the 15th of October next.

When this portion of their road shall be completed, they will have advanced 831 miles from Milwaukee, on a direct line to Portage City, leaving only 22½ miles yet to be completed, to connect these important points by a rail track not only the shortest feasible, but at least ten miles shorter than any other which has been projected.

Your Memorialists further represent, that they were the first company authorized by the laws of this State to construct a railroad from Milwaukee to Portage City, as also from Portage City to La Crosse, and they are therefore the Pioneer upon this important route; that they entered early upon the prosecution of their enterprise, and have omitted no proper effort, and spared no means in their power to push it forward, that they have already expended over thirteen hundred thousand dollars in the prosecution of the work, and they design at an early day, as a part of their original plan, and as the only means of reaping a fair reward from the heavy expenditure already made, to complete their road, at least, to the Wisconsin River.

In connection with this enterprise, your Memorialists have not been indifferent to the important land grants recently made by act of Congress to the State of Wisconsin, designed (among other things) to aid in the construction of a railroad, which shall commence at Columbus or Madison, and run thence by the way of Portage City to the St. Croix River and to Lake Superior.

They regard the prominent object of this grant to be, the opening of the valuable country bordering upon the designated line of railroad to the great markets of the East, where the products of the soil will naturally seek and will always command a ready sale. The most direct route from this region of country will necessarily be sought for, because it will afford the greatest facility for transportation of freight and passengers, and will ensure the largest profit to the transporting company. The increase of a single mile will be attended with a permanent and serious loss. Such an increase must necessarily involve not only the loss of interest on the cost of construction, (say $2,000 per annum,) but also the annual cost of running one extra mile, not less than three thousand dollars more. The addition of ten miles only to the trunk end of such a railroad will thus involve an annual expense of not less than fifty to sixty thousand dollars, a sum of money actually thrown away in case the additional distance could be obviated.

Your Memorialists, therefore, regard it as a matter of vital importance, not only to the people on the line of the proposed road upon whom the burden of the cost of transportation must fall, but to the stockholders of the company who will be interested in its earnings, that the eastern portion of the line shall be the shortest and cheapest practicable route to the most desirable market for the produce of the country in question.

For all that district of country lying west and north of Portage City, it cannot be doubted that the city of Milwaukee will furnish the best market, so long as heavy articles are to be transported around the Lakes, to and from the sea board.

Some portion of the travel destined to pass over this line of road, may be accommodated by a more southerly route, passing through Madison, Janesville and the cities of Illinois; and in this respect, a Railroad between Portage City and Madison, will doubtless subserve the public interest. But, for the mass of bulky articles seeking an eastern market from the country beyond Portage City, as well as for the merchandize destined for that country, no route will ever be presented, affording so many advantages as the road of your memorialists, passing through Watertown and Columbus; and your memorialists feel confident that your Honorable bodies will discover that both the interests of the public and the policy of the stockholders will concur in fixing upon Columbus as one of the starting points of the road in question. Inasmuch, however, as the donation by Congress has been liberal and ample, your memorialists, with a view to render its benefits as general as possible, respectfully propose to construct and complete two lines of Railroad, simultaneously, one from Columbus, and one from Madison, to Portage City; and to construct and complete from that city westward, by the most direct feasible route, a line of Railroad to Hudson on the St. Croix river, your memorialists not doubting the power and right of the Legislature to pass a law for the purpose indicated, binding upon the Company when accepted by them.

Your memorialists further propose, in case the Legislature shall authorize the construction, by them, of the roads in question, that a law shall be passed, authorizing and requiring said company to form running connections with any and every other company, having occasion therefor, in the most free and liberal manner, and prescribing the requisite rules and regulations for carrying out such running connections in all future time.

Your memorialists further propose, in case the Legislature shall pass a law authorizing the construction of them, by the roads in question, to deposite with the Treasurer of the State of Wisconsin, two hundred thousand dollars, in State or United States stocks, (or in such other securities as the said Treasurer may reasonably require,) to secure to the State the fulfilment on the part of your memorialists, the terms and conditions of said law,—and all benefits to be derived from said law to be forfeited, in case such securities shall not be so deposited within twenty days after the passage of the law.

For the purpose of enabling your memorialists to construct the roads in question, upon the terms and conditions above set forth, they respectfully request that a law may be passed, authorizing the Milwaukee and Watertown Rail Road Company, to construct the said lines of Rail Roads, under such regulations as may be necessary to guard the public interests and secure the object in view; and for that purpose, that the capital stock of said Company may be increased to Ten Millions of dollars, and that a Board of Commissioners of not less than five persons may be appointed by law, to superintend the opening of books and the issuing and distribution of such stock, and that the lands designated and granted by Congress, to aid in the construction of said lines of railroad, may be granted and conveyed to the said company, for the purposes intended; the said company being required to pay to the state,

THE FLAG OF THE FREE.—A handsome United States flag, with the inscription, "FREE SOILS, FREE SPEECH, FREE BOYS, FREE LABOR, AND FREMONT & DAYTON," was being cut, yesterday, over the street from the top of the building containing our presses and composing rooms, and was greeted with three hearty cheers as it was unrolled.

The flag is the work of F. M. LASH, and the getting of it up is an enterprise of some of the occupants of Ludington's Block, coupled with our compositors—and "long may it wave!"

W. LAIDLAW'S LAND AGENCY!

Office 230 East Water Street, 2 Doors South of Walker House.

AMONG the extensive amount of Real Estate I have for sale, I would respectfully call the attention of those in search of a large paying investment to an "out lot," of 20 acres. Said lot is situated one mile and a half West of the city, and besides being handsomely timbered, commands the most beautiful view of the city, lake and harbor. The soil cannot be surpassed, and on the whole, this tract of land is unequalled in the county of Milwaukee, for beauty and availability. Land, the same distance from the city, is selling at from $300 to $500 per acre, and there should be no reason why the land I offer should not be more valuable, on account of the superiority of location and view. I will sell it, however, at about half the above figures, or exchange for city property.
